

Book a Librarian

Let us say you have to write a scientific paper and you need support for searching the scientific literature. Or you would like to use a reference management software. Why not sign up for a free personal crash course (30 to 60 minutes) with one of our librarians?

FIZBw

If you are a member of the Bundeswehr University Munich, we can conduct literature research for you in the database of the "Fachinformationszentrum der Bundeswehr" (FIZBw).

Information about the University Library of the Bundeswehr University Munich

Welcome to the University Library

The University Library offers you access to more than 1.3 million books and journals:

- study & work spaces
- LAN & wifi (via eduroam)
- copying machines, printers and scanners
- various training opportunities
- individual help from a member of staff

Finding Scientific Literature

You can find all our scientific literature in our Online Public Access Catalogue (OPAC) - on and off campus.

Open Access Collections

Fetch books and journals from open shelves at the following locations:

Main Library (Bldg 35/200):

Holds scientific literature from all fields, plus textbooks, newspapers and periodicals.

Special Collections (Bldg 33/100):

Specialises on scientific literature about military matters, security and military policy, military and contemporary history. Also holds large sized maps and atlases.

Stack Collections

Using the OPAC, you can request books and journals from our stacks. They will be made available for you in 24 hours or less.

Electronic Media

Besides books and journals in print you will also find electronic media (ebooks, ejournals, databases) in the OPAC. You have access from within the library. For university members access is possible on and off campus, among others via Windows Terminal Service (WTS), provided by the Computing Centre (Rechenzentrum). Non-members please ask at the information desk.

Interlibrary Loan

With this service we can provide books and articles for you from partner libraries, if we do not have them among our collections.

Borrower's Card

If you want to borrow books etc. you need a borrower's card. You can get one at the Service Desk of the University Library on Level 0 of Bldg 35/200. Non-members need a Director's permit. Please ask at the information desk.
